Image: Depositphotos.com last update November 4, 2020 Self-improvement should not be a big mind-blowing change; it really might just be just to improve what you already have to get you to where you want to be. However, what you need is consistency, determination and cunning to try some things that will stretch and challenge you. Instead of setting your sights far into the future, which leaves you feeling like you will never do it, you can start following these simple and effective steps of self-improvement today. So if you want to make an immediate impact on your life and are willing to take action, then keep reading-you'll love them!1. Be prepared to work hard. Like everything in life, if you want something, you have to work hard to get it. This does not mean that you burn a candle at both ends, leaving you exhausted and leaving your privacy in ruins. It just means that if you want something bad enough, you'll put in a while to get there. The action is important here, and the more inspired the action, the better the results at the end2. Make sure you have friends you can talk to. Sharing the load is important, as with any self-improvement. If you can chat with other people and get feedback on how you do, then that's great. We all need cheerleaders in our corner to keep us going when times get hard, but you also have to have people who will tell you like this, even if you don't want to hear it. So make sure you have a good support network around you, especially those people whose opinions you respect. 3. Adapt to your circumstances rather than thinking too much about them. Sometimes we can get into a difficult period. You may have lost your job or your partner left you. Instead of more analysis of the situation, learn to adapt to your circumstances and accept them as they are. It's not about turning your circumstances into some kind of drama; remember that you are focused on expanding, which means you will get more. Then you won't become your problems, and you will feel much less burdened with them.4 Make sure you use your time wisely. Time is important, some might say; while others will say that time is an illusion. One thing we know is that you have one life on this planet, since you use this time is paramount. So how can you use your time wisely? Only you know how to do it, but look how you currently spend your days: do you sit, working all day, go home, eat and then sit dropped in front of the TV for the rest of the evening? Your time on this earth is precious, so isn't it time to use the time that you have left? Try something new, take a walk, learn a new language or meditate, but make sure it's something you absolutely love.5 Always be consistent. The perfect way is to make a change in the way you do things. For example, with friends, are you always an unreliable one who bows out of an arrangement just before it happens? Or are you the one who starts a new workout and then stops doing it 3 weeks into it? Whatever it is and whatever you do, always be consistent. When you do do stick to it. It will improve your life immeasurably you will feel more confident and happier with yourself, especially because you will know that whatever you decide, you will be able to consistently do it.6. Go and find your lucky place. No, I don't say the place is like in popping into a local bar or restaurant and devouring yourself on your favorite drinks or food. What I'm saying is to find out what that makes you happy and there. Your happy place is a place where you find peace, where you lose yourself and feel satisfied. Meditation is a great way to find your happy place; this brings you back to you and ensures that you always live in the present. 7. Make sure you embrace all your emotions. In life you will find that it throws you some difficult tasks, sometimes it will lead your fears and lead you into uncertainty, and sometimes it will be joyful. It is important to embrace all the emotions that come into your life, take them from the bottom of your heart and understand why they are there and then let them go. Try not to fire or resist them, because remember that you resist, persevere, so hug them every time.8 Always be prepared to step out of your comfort zone. The idea of getting out of your comfort zone for some people can leave you paralyzed with fear; However for any changes in your life, your comfort zone should always be out of it. It doesn't have to be something big like doing sky dive or something like crazy. However, it's worth changing what you once feared, like going to the movies on your own or eating at a sushi restaurant when the thought of trying raw fish, which usually means you're working on the hills. So try something new - it doesn't have to be stupid, but it has to challenge you.9. Be on hand to help others. Whether it's helping a stranger on the street or a family member or friend helping someone else or in your time of need, lending a helping hand is a wonderful and simple self-improvement to do. Giving to others is useful not only to those you help, but also to yourself. It can give you a sense of purpose, contribution, and takes your mind off your own troubles and worries. 10. Live at the moment. A wonderful tool of self-improvement is to live in the present, to live in the present. It is at this point that you will appreciate everything you have and see beauty in the simplest things. Mindful of your current circumstances and return your mind to where it belongs will lead to a happier lifestyle, rather than constant anxiety or emphasizing past or future that does not exist. Only the present moment exists. When you get used to living this way, you'll never want to go back.11. Find out something new. There is nothing more liberating than learning something new; it can lift both your confidence and self-esteem and give you a great reason, meet new people. If you're constantly top of the top your brain activity by learning something new all the time, you will feel at the top of your game and want to share the knowledge that you have learned. There is nothing more empowering than learning a new tool in life that can either improve your circle of friends or boost your level of trust, or both! Reading is also a great way to help you learn something new.12. Exercise daily. This seems obvious, but exercise is so important not only for your health, but also for your spirit. We all know that after exercise, the world can feel a brighter and more positive place, so why don't we do it more often? Exercise is not about getting the perfect body or losing weight; it's more about feeling good inside and day! With a healthy body comes a healthy mind, so start something today. Even if it's just a daily walk, it's better than staying on that couch, again. 13. Go to new places, travel a little. I'm not saying go fly away to some distant, forgotten land, though you can if you want. It's more about moving to new places and going through life outside your own backyard. Too many of us stay in one place too often. We see only the same person on the same streets and do the same thing every day. If you want to improve your life, go out there and see the world and what it has to offer. You can start by going to a city or city you've never been to in your own country, and check out the architecture, scenery and people. Everything new is good, so go out there!14. Listen to inspirational music and dance. If there is one thing that can really improve your life and get you excited about it, it listens to great inspiring music and dancing. When was the last time you let go? Let it all hang freely and get into a piece of music and let go of yourself? Dancing, like exercise, makes you feel great. It releases all kinds of emotions and can make you feel incredibly good. Self-improvement isn't all about serious things; It can be something as simple as finding new music, music that inspires you and makes you dance and have fun!15. Get up earlier than usual. It's the last one, and it's the last one, because it's one of those self-improvement tips that we all know is good, but we seem to avoid it at all costs! If you think about it, the earliest part of the day is when your brain is most active because it has been turned off in the last 7 hours or so. So don't you think it's best to get all these things above done in the morning? Things like exercise, meditation and dancing that can all be done in the morning. Take it from me: this early morning stuff can really get your day started with a bang! Find out more Photo credit: Laura Chouette via unsplash.com unsplash.com unsplash.com
